

Is a will of the Management to guarantee the constant compliance of products and service provided to customers

For this purpose the Management

- Considers determinant to ensure that people in the company are qualified for the role they have to play and are motivated, involved and collaborative
- Intends to provide resources and to support the necessary investments, by a prudent financial management

Is a will of the Management to ensure the continuous improvement of the management system and its efficiency

Therefore the Management

- Considers important to raise awareness of all staff on the need to minimize business costs. Cost containment is also functional in order to achieve a greater economic competitiveness.
- Support, as driving tool for the company growth, a benchmarking with competitors.
- promotes the redefinition of business processes, wherever is assessed to increase the efficiency.
- believes in a partnership, based on a reciprocal benefit, with distributors

Is a will of the managing to support the company development

The Management

- aware of the efforts that the company claimed to set up an organizational structure that can provide answers and technical solutions to the customer and to have advanced technologies in the production department, supports the promotion of these own strengths for a commercial development